Daryl,
It's been a hell of a good year. (Even though we almost got caught cheating in Everretts class)
Dare to do anything I would dare
do. (which isn't much.)

The 1969 Trojan is dedicated to the memory of our dear Oz.

Rarely are we given the privilege of knowing a person who awakens us to a keener awareness of the good things of life. Mr. Van Moorhem was such a man. His friendliness, genuine concern for others, and fine sense of humor added warmth to the lives of the people who knew him. His talent as an artist was coupled with an ability to communicate this gift to others, giving them pleasure and enjoyment. His strength of character required and inspired his contacts and associates to be better citizens. In our hearts and memories he is a permanent part of this school and community.

OFFICERS: F. Sprague, vice president; D. Claxton, secretary; J. Zylstra, president; L. Johnson, representative; R. Fleming, treasurer; Mr. Kratz, advisor; Mr. Knudsen, advisor.

We, the class of 1969, started towards our year of leadership as freshmen. Though we were quite unsure of our future, we elected our first class officers. They were Dave Crnich, president; Nancy Viles, secretary, Gordon Neevel, treasurer; and Bill Freeman, class representative. Being underclassmen, we had many questions to ask and Mr. Holland, our advisor, answered them for us. Jill Geleynse and Don Boyd represented our freshman class at our first Football Homecoming. Finals along with springtime, moved us closer to our sophomore year.

Beginning our sophomore year, we felt quite superior but we were quickly put in our place by the juniors and seniors. We elected our officers to lead us through this difficult year. They were Don Boyd, president; Dave Crnich, vice president; John Bartok, secretary; Bob Weatherby, treasurer, and Scott Fjellman, class representative. Our advisor, Mr. Knudsen, led us through the year with few problems. Alana Butenschoen and Dave Crnich represented our sophomore class at the Football Homecoming. Sharon Abbott represented us at our first Basketball Homecoming. Another school year was over and we stepped forward to one of our most formative years of high school.

We began our junior year with Mrs. Kenoyer as our new advisor. With her help we elected our officers: Bill Freeman, president; Ron Fleming, vice president, Karen Myhre, secretary; Alana Butenschoen, treasurer; and Don Boyd, class representative. Kris Holliday and Bob Weatherby represented our junior class at our Football Homecoming. Shelley Burkhart represented us at the Basketball Homecoming. We had three major events in the spring. These were all successful under the chairmenship of Shelley Burkhart, Jr. Whatnot; Randi Parker, Jr.-Sr. Prom; and Kris Holliday, Jr.-Sr. Banquet. By the time the year was over, we felt prepared for our final and most important year.

When our senior year began, we were the leaders at last. Through-out the year, we kept busy with our many activities. The excitement of the year made it pass quickly as graduation grew closer.

Preparing to direct, following in the steps to success . . . .

OFFICERS: Mrs. Grace Kenoyer, S. Rhea, M. Buchholz, J. Bartok, T. O'Hara, J. Beard.

The Juniors took their first step into the new year by electing Mike Bucholz, president; John Bartok, vice-president; Sue Rhea, secretary; Terry O'Hara, treasurer; and Jeff Beard, class representative. Mrs. Kenoyer advised them throughout the year.

In the spring, the Junior What-Not was presented. The money raised by that was used to honor the Seniors at the Junior-Senior Banquet and the Junior-Senior Prom.

With experience behind them, they were prepared to take over as leaders in the following year.

That a boy, Rob!!

The loving Juniors!

The Sophomore class returned to Meridian for another great year, privileged to be high school beginners no longer. They enjoyed a fuller year of participation, having a big part in athletics, clubs, banquets, and homecomings.

At election time they chose Don Rhea for president; Carl Muencher, vice president; Pat Zwiers, secretary; Albert Larson, treasurer, and Guy Abbott, class representative; Mrs. Pedersen and Mr. Belka served as their advisors.

The Athletic Banquet was enjoyed by the boys who proved themselves worthy of the team by a long year of hard work. The girls served at the F.F.A. Banquet. Also they took a big part in the Mother's Tea.

All in all the Sophomores called it a great year and looked forward to their coming year as Juniors.

Annual

The Trojan staff members: Kathy Sandall, editor; Kris Holliday, copy editor; Annette Veenstra, co-copy editor; Janet Wieland, business manager; Randi Parker, art editor; Shelley Burkhart, senior editor; Steve Austin, junior assistant; Marlene Watts, junior assistant; Mrs. Frances Adams, advisor; started the year by soliciting for advertisements to help pay for the 1968-1969 yearbook.

As the 14th of November drew nearer, work parties were held to meet the first deadline. With that deadline the annual slowly took shape. Helping the staff were John Zylstra and Nels Kalhovde as photographers.

After the fourth deadline, the staff was able to concentrate on the last proofreading. Finally came the time for the unveiling of the annual to judge if all the effort was worthwhile.

CLOCKWISE: K. Holliday, R. Parker, A. Veenstra, S. Austin, M. Watts, J. Wieland, K. Standal.

Staff with advisor, Mrs. Adams.

Paper Staff

The Trojan Courier was published every three weeks under the supervision of Mr. Donald Wenke. The objective was to expand beyond the limits of the school and become a community newspaper. The small journalism staff worked overtime in order to produce the paper.

Mike Weidkamp was editor; Frank Sprague, sports editor; Necia Parker, Debbi Claxton, Carol Sestrom, and Jo Ellen Taber gathered news. Vicki Dohrman transferred at the semester but Kendall Dobiash stepped in to take her place. Karen Pfannenstiel and Necia Parker doubled as typists and members of Mr. Wise's class mimeographed the paper.

The exchange papers had a very wide scope this year, bigger than ever. Papers were received from Ketchikan, Alaska, to Newbury Park, California; Camas Valley, Oregon, to Brooklyn, New York.

CLOCKWISE: D. Claxton, N. Parker, M. Weidkamp, V. Dohrman, C. Sestrom, K. Pfannenstiel, F. Sprague.

Rifle Club

"The line is ready . . . load . . . ready on the firing line . . . commence firing." These commands were heard many times from the old gym while the members were trying for higher qualifications. The qualifications were divided into six levels: Pro-Marksman, Marksman, Marksman First Class, Sharpshooter-bars 1-9, Expert, and Distinguished Expert. The Meridian Rifle Club Team had a shooting match with the Custer Sportsmanship Club Team at their new range. Afterwards refreshments of pop, coffee, and donuts were served. The club sold football programs to raise money for ammunition.

The Drill Team was led by Leila Richardson, captain; Karen Myhre, first lieutenant; and Karen Pfannensteil, second lieutenant. The advisors were Mrs. Patricia Vickerman and Mr. Dale Merrell. The girls practiced long hard hours to participate in the Drill Team Conference in Bellevue. During the year they marched at games, at the Ten Mile Grange, and in many parades including Leavenworth, Victoria, and Blossom Time.

At the beginning of the year, the Drill Team awarded Mrs. Mary Rowe a gift for her help in the past years.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleaders were very active under the leadership of Cheer Queen Kris Holliday and advisor Donald Wenke. They provided skits for the entertainment of the student body, and supported the school at all extracurricular activities. The cheerleaders also sponsored Basketball Homecoming Week and decorated for the spring Athletic Banquet.

Cheerleaders: Jill Geleynse, Kris Holliday, Randi Parker.

Cheerleaders: Sharon Abbott, Bev Chasteen, Sue Rhea.

Under Head Coach John Abbott and Assistant Coach Bruce Taubenheim, fired up from last season, the team started out looking for a W.C.L. title. In preparation for the season, 17 boys went to football camp during the summer. The season came on with the Trojans having 33 boys turning out, 11 from each class. The first game was with Stanwood, who was rated third in the state last year. The game was a Trojan victory which was followed by more. The Trojans strong line was an asset to equally strong backs which gave them a well balanced attack on the ground or air. Then the team suffered an extreme loss to their attack. Senior flanker, Bill Freeman, threw a key block in the Concrete game and broke his arm. After this, the squad was plagued with injuries. Terry O'Hara, team quarterback, broke his ankel which took even more sting out of the Trojan attack. Homecoming was for the home team and the Trojans took Lynden 25-0 which brightened the night. Three backs received jerseys for gaining over 100 yards. They were Seniors Bill Freeman, Don Boyd and Dave Crnich. Halfback Don Boyd was star ground gainer with blocking from a fine line and fullback Dave Crnich. Boyd gained 1200 yards, a goal never attained by a Meridian High School grid star. Honorary Captain was Don Boyd and the Inspirational Player was Dave Crnich.

The Meridian Trojan Basketball team was led by the new coach, Mr. Roy Grady. Mr. Richard Belka coached the junior varsity. The squad was sparked on by the high scoring of captain Ron Fleming, outstanding rebounding of Dave Crnich, who averaged 14 rebounds per game, and very strong defense of guard Don Boyd. These three players helped contribute to the season's games of seven wins and eleven losses. Also contributing a great deal to the team were the efforts of Dan Manthey, Bob Bird, Mike Buchholz, Jeff Beard and Gary Shannon. Those players, except for senior Dan Mathey, will help make up the nucleus of next year's ball club.

Although they missed a berth at the district playoffs by one game, they came up with a first place trophy at their Christmas Tournament.

Just what I needed.
